

Ouzo Legendary 100% by distillation

Classification: Ouzo with Protected Geographical Indication Tyrnavos

Country of origin: Greece

Kind: Ouzo

Alcohol content: 40%

Distillation and aging process:

The copper boiler (capacity of 1000 liters) is filled with alcohol of agricultural origin, water, 14 carefully selected fragrant seeds and herbs such as aniseed, fennel seed, asteroid anise etc.

These ingredients are then distilled. During the distillation we remove the first and last parts and we keep the heart which is then diluted with the addition of water. Then, sugar is added giving us Ouzo of the highest quality.

This final product, a pure distillate, without any addition of ethyl-alcohol, is then filtered and placed in stainless steel tanks for about 2 weeks, in order to assimilate the entire mixture.

The Ouzo is then filtered once again before being bottled automatically in glass bottles, which are placed in carton boxes ready for distribution.

It should be noted that the Government Chemistry Laboratory supervises each distillation that is performed.

Tasting notes:

- Color: Clear / turbid with the addition of water.
- Nose: Anise aroma in combination with cinnamon, nutmeg, coriander and other Mediterranean aromas.
- Palate: Rich natural taste result from the blending of 14 fragrant seeds and herbs during the distillation process such as aniseed, fennel seed, asteroid anise etc.

Pairings: It perfectly accompanies seafood appetizers and fried foods with intense flavor.

Serving temperature: Cool on the 10° with the addition of cold water or ice cubes.
